PIONEER

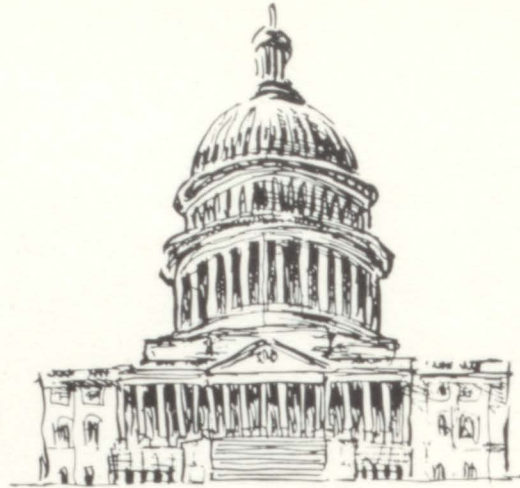

Tolleston High School
Gary, Indiana
1964 PIONEER

The Pioneers of the New Frontier dedicate.....

President John Fitzgerald Kennedy
May 29, 1917 - November 22, 1963

"And so, my fellow Americans: ask not what your country can do for you - ask what you can do for your country."

(Inaugural Address 1961)

Our 1964 yearbook is published in memory of the 35th President of the United States.

John Fitzgerald Kennedy

The End Came Too Soon

Although the death of our beloved President, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, was a cruel, shocking blow to the nation, the student body at Tolleston courageously performed to their utmost ability; and carried through toward the goals of the New Frontier.

Terminating years of hard work, trying situations, and new experiences, the students of Tolleston High School will remember these times because of the lasting effect they will have on each of their lives. As we look back on our lives we shall realize how each year and each new experience serves as a stepping stone to maturity and higher learning.

Arriving to school any time between 7:20 and 11:20 presented a disgusting problem to both students and teachers. Students, however, under the guidance of our principals, Mr. Carrabine and Mr. Swan, coped with this problem and changed punctuality from a mutual problem to a solution for academic success.

The past year was not entirely spent academically. Occasionally social events intervened with the academic functions of Tolleston students. Games, class parties, inductions, and many other after school activities helped to make the year more pleasant.

Now that another year toward development and maturity at Tolleston High School has elapsed, the future is governed by the hands of fate. We shall leave behind at Tolleston High School another year of wonderful experiences. Someday while reminiscing about high school days, we shall recall this year as one of our most treasured years, and realize with envy that it is Gone With Time.

Sadness and gladness, tears and smiles, will be expressed in memories of the past school year. These events will hold fast in our minds, but we will soon realize that they are all Gone With Time.

Administration

Administrators Worked To

Mr. Carrabine's guidance has helped the student body to make the most of each opportunity that they were offered.

Mr. Swan ably assisted Mr. Carrabine in all administrative duties.

Mr. Carrabine and two of his secretaries look over academic records of a former Tolleston student.

Tolleston High School has as its chief administrators Mr. Richard M. Carrabine principal, and Mr. William P. Swan assistant principal. They are the men whose leadership and guidance have enabled this school to be a more worthwhile institution of learning.

Each of their positions has subjected Tolleston students to justified punishment, gratifying congratulations, and the force of leadership necessary for maintaining and building educational skills. They are noted and praised highly for their work at Tolleston. They have given the students ideal standards for which they are to strive. Their admiration and dedication for the student body have enabled each student's life to be more pleasant. They are both known too as men of understanding and sincerity. Because of their admiration for and dedication to the student body, in order that they might make individual lives more pleasant, they help them with social and academic problems. Together, they have worked willingly and endlessly with the faculty to improve school facilities, and make our school a better place to attend.

Preceding his position as principal, Mr. Carrabine served as assistant principal and a teacher of science and mathematics. He graduated from Emerson High School, received his bachelors degree from Indiana University and his Masters degree from Ball State Teachers College.

Mr. Swan received his Bachelors Degree from Eastern Michigan and his Masters Degree from the University of Michigan.

Each of these gentlemen has served as a capable, understanding, and very considerate principal of Tolleston High School for several years. Through their outstanding ability our school has become one of the most respected and highly rated schools in the city. The class of 1964 collectively thanks Mr. Carrabine and Mr. Swan for their guidance and understanding.

Improve School Facilities

This year, all the Gary schools were efficiently administered by the new Gary School Superintendent Dr. Lee R. Gilbert.

The School Board members are appointed by the mayor for a term of four years. The most recent appointment was John F. Gutowski.

The Indiana School Board Assn. believes that the Gary Board of Education has the sole responsibility to govern the public schools. This authority and responsibility is granted by law and cannot be delegated by others.

The Board makes and sets school policies and the superintendent's duty is to implement them. The board also hires and fires teachers and administrators, and looks out for the welfare of the students. The Superintendent is the hired chief administrative official of the Board of Education.

It is the firm hope of the School Board and the Superintendent that the people of Gary will think of the children first and begin to work together.

THE GARY SCHOOL BOARD ARE: STANDING: John F. Gutowski, Dr. Leroy Bingham, Secretary; Samuel P. Moise, SITTING: Andrew D. White, Treasurer; Mrs. Dena S. Adams, President.

CUSTODIAL STAFF-TOP ROW: Bernice Brown, Meral Shipps, Mary Basiak, Doretha Randolph, Rose Pushka, Emma Obradovic.

Mr. DiNicola seems to be doing his job efficiently.

Mrs. Olson, the school nurse, checks students for physical fitness.

School Secretaries

Filing and receiving phone calls plus writing memos are only a few of Mrs. Adams' jobs.

"There is more to a secretary's job than typing," adds Mrs. Anderson as she greets someone over the phone.

Pupil Personnel

Mrs. Palmer, pupil personnel, indicates with a smile that she doesn't mind assisting any student with a problem.

"Typing a stencil is a tedious job," remarks Miss Skoczen.

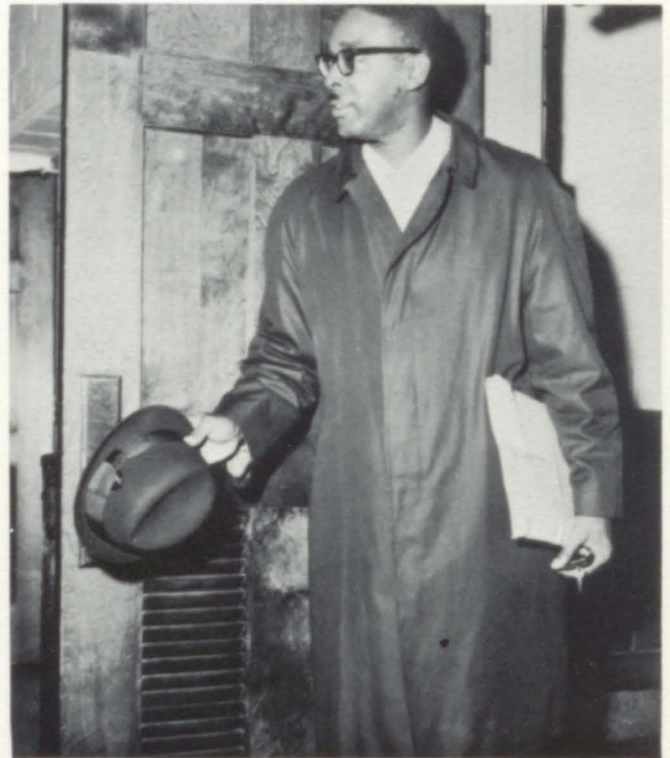

Adults Aided Students

The two junior high counselors efficiently and expertly guided the junior high students.

Mr. Belle, head of the pupil personnel, seems to be glad his days work is finished.

Senior Class Held Class Party

Magic moments was the theme of the Senior Class Party signifying precious high school parties to remember.

At the Senior Class Party, Shearwood asked his fellow classmate for his autograph for his memory booklet.

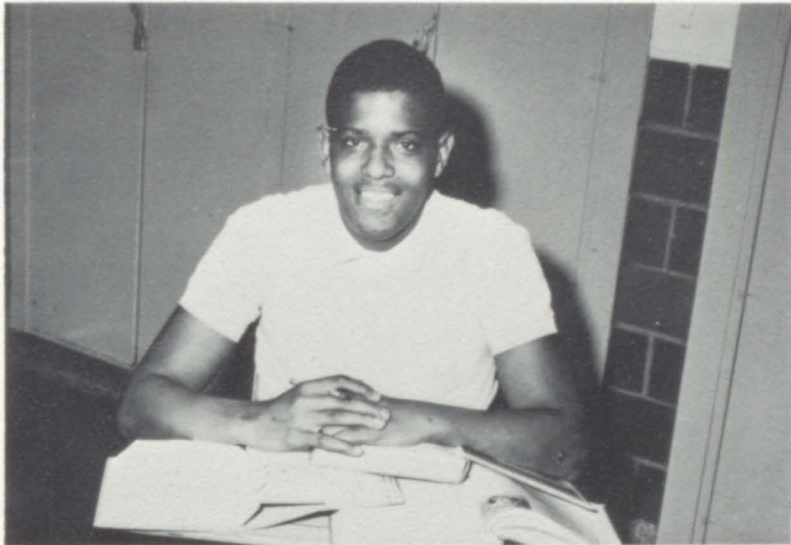

Seniors Actively Participated

Gloria Atkins, Larry Anderson, Hurley Perry, and Terrance Kyle, act out a scene from the Senior Class Play "They Gave Him a Coed."

D. A. R. good citizen, Gloria Atkins, smiled happily when told of her award of achievement.

Boys' State representative Larry Anderson took time out from his studies to represent Tolleston at Indiana University.

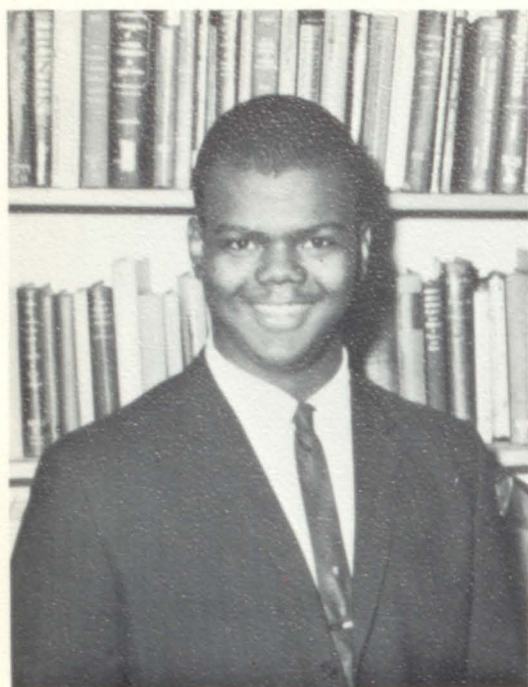

Girls' State representatives to Indiana University were Johnetta Dockins, alternate; Lynn Lowery, Gloria Atkins, Charmaine Hopkins, Gregory Douglas, and Casmira Szmall, not pictured.

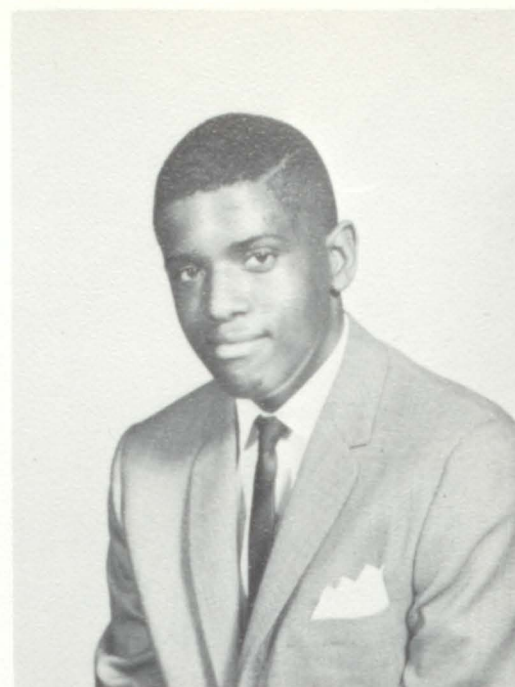

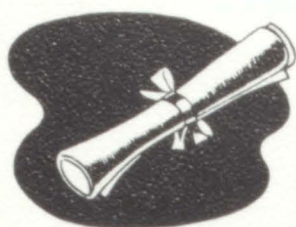

Seniors took one last look at party bids before enjoying their last class party.

McClelland, Anderson -- Top Class '64'

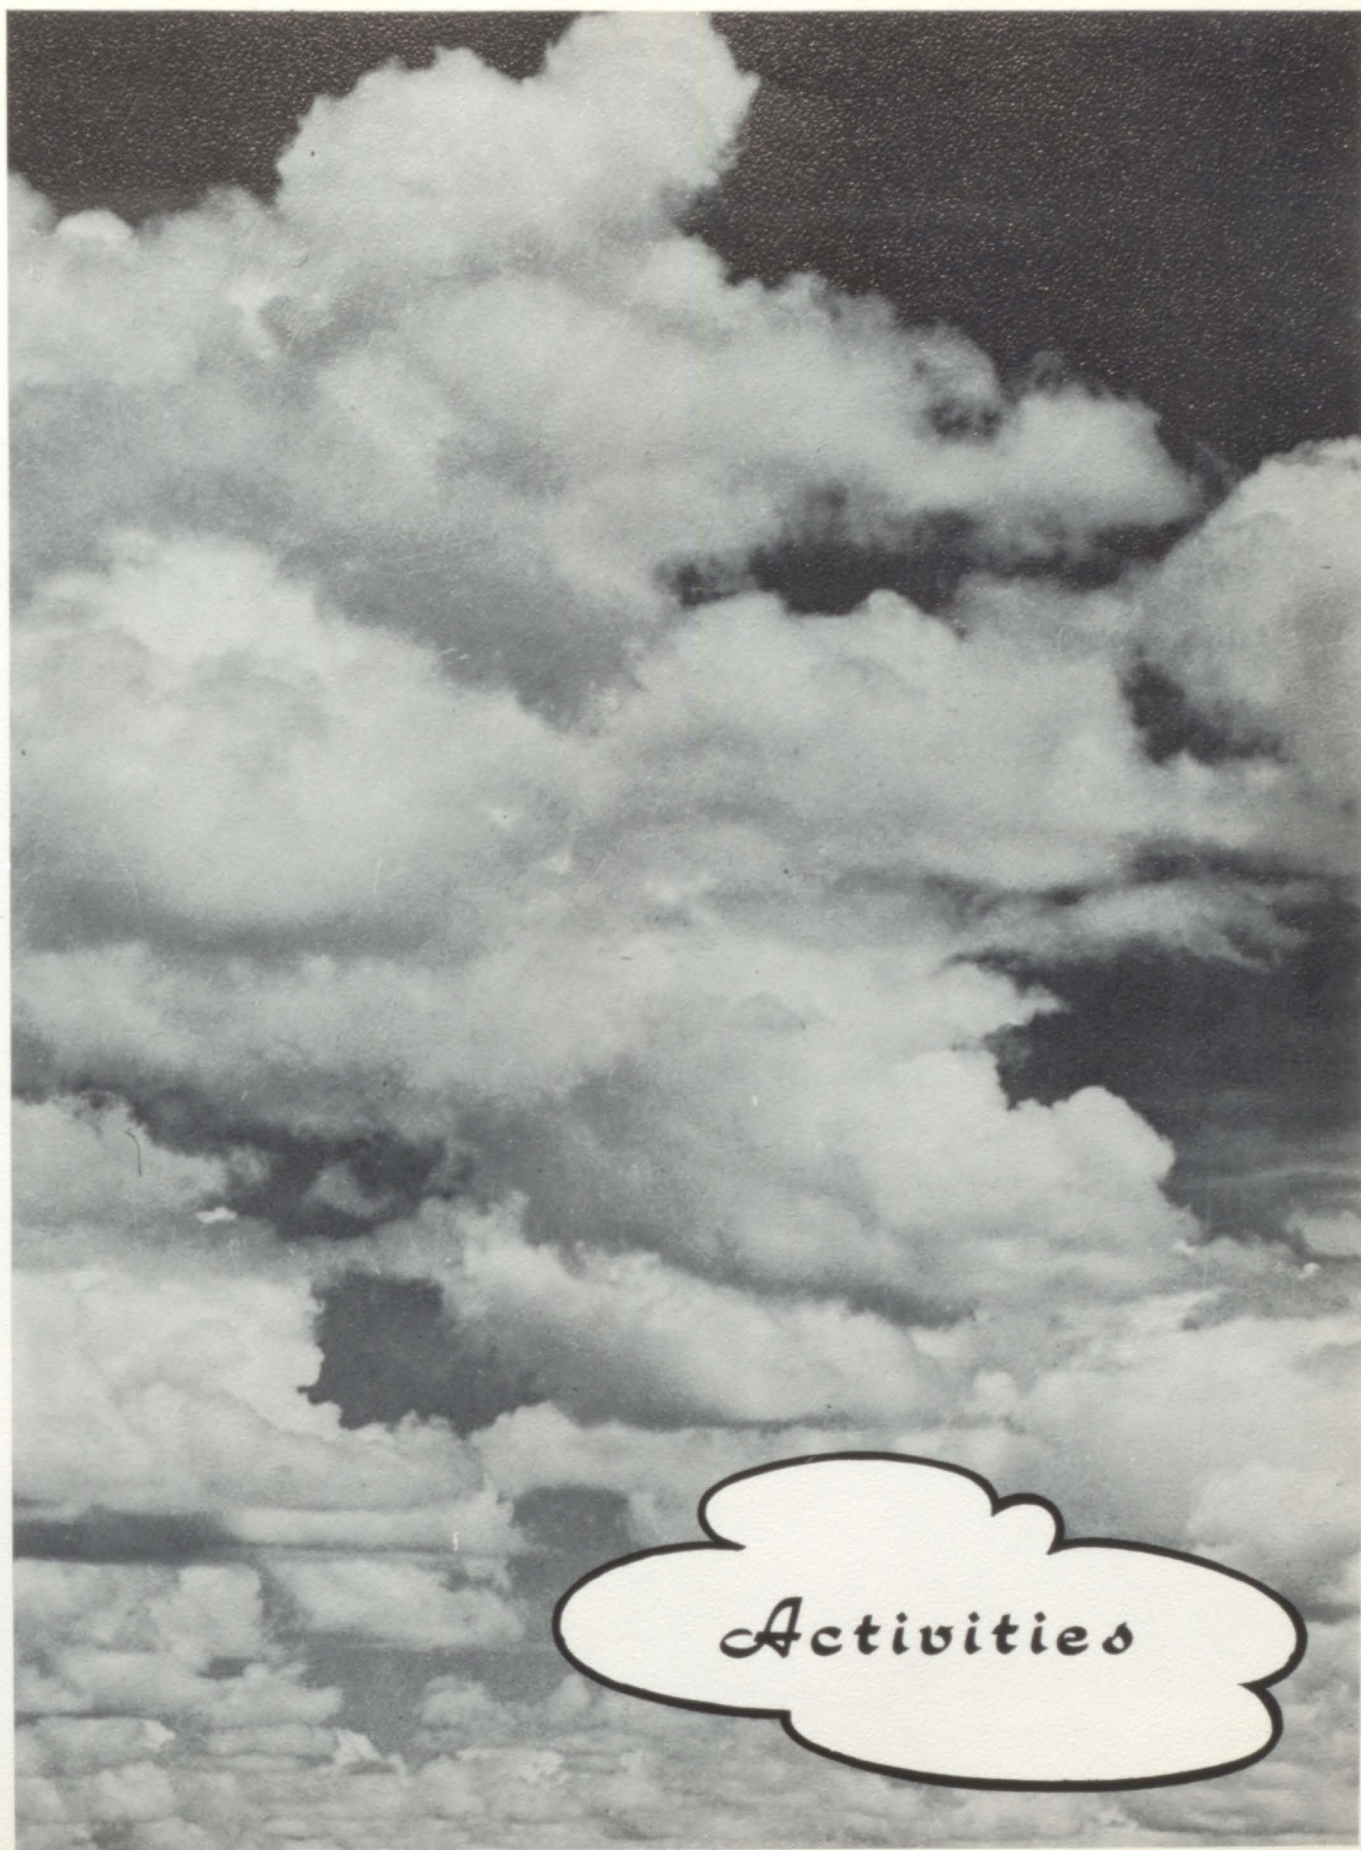

Shearwood McClelland, Valedictorian

Laurence Anderson, Salutatorian

Activities

Emphasis Was Placed On English

Whatever this young lady is writing on the board must be interesting from the attention she is getting from on-looking students.

English students take time to examine the books they used during the course of the year.

Enthusiastic sophomores were provided with effective English instruction by Mrs. Rodgers.

Pioneer staff members confer while compiling this year's annual.

Discussion was an important part of the Senior English class.

As Well As Foreign Languages

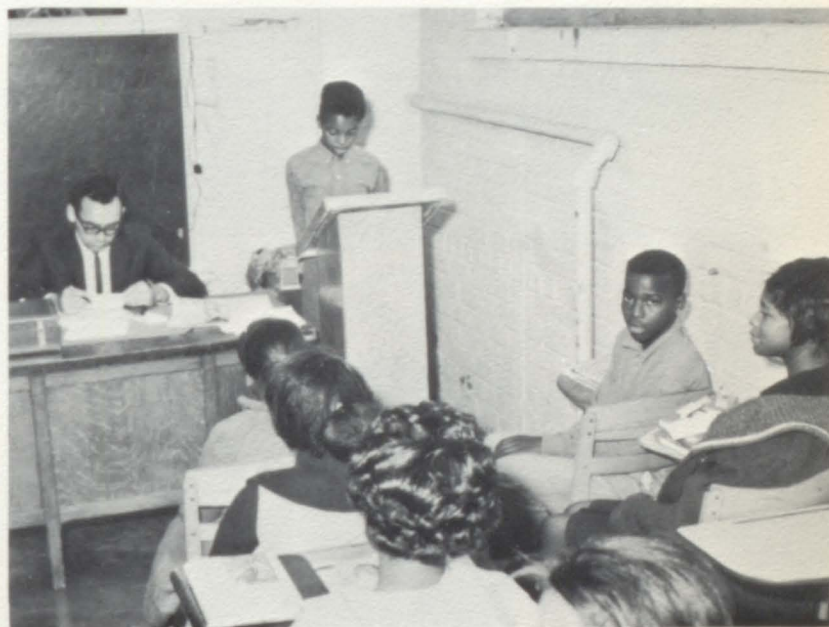

The signs these Latin students are holding up served the purpose of increasing their fellow classmates Latin vocabulary.

Spanish students took pride in decorating bulletin boards, with projects they have completed.

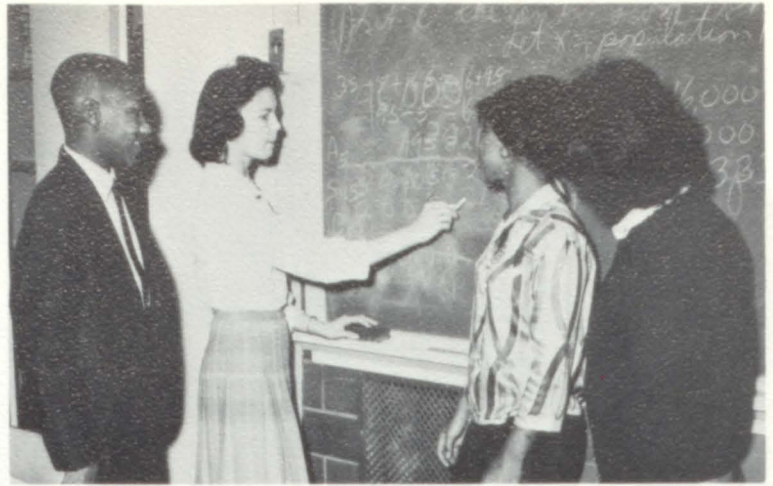

French students learned to speak the language of romance, with help of the language laboratory, under the instruction of Miss Ihle.

Learning to make a speech may come in handy some day to this student in Mr. Maya's speech class.

Math and Science

Mrs. Abbring explained algebra problems to alert students.

Students asked questions about a difficult homework assignment.

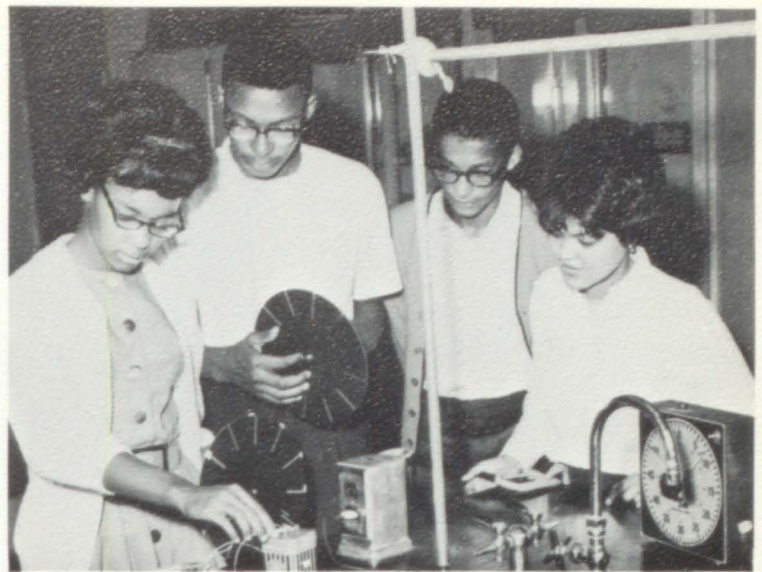

General Math students were interested in furthering their knowledge in the fundamentals of Math.

Required Considerable Study.

The anatomy of the human body seemed to be holding these students' interest.

Physics students seemed to be concentrating intently on their experiment.

Whatever is under the telescope must be interesting since it was receiving attention from this young man.

Chemistry students performed many beneficial experiments.

Dr. Crane helps one of his students with an assignment.

History and Business

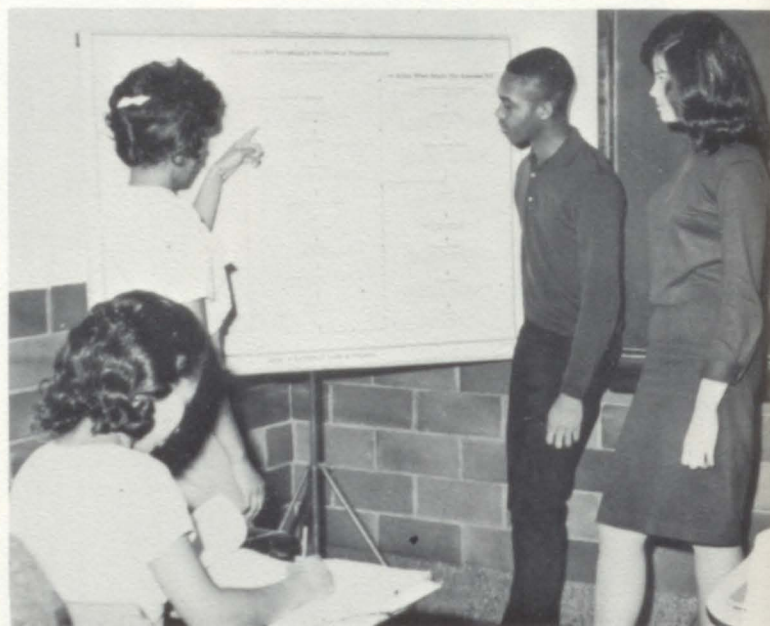

These world geography students took time to learn to read the map of the world.

Miss Minelli's economics class was interested in the discussion being conducted by the young man in front of the class.

Dr. Crane explained some early history to his World History students.

Government students became familiar with the process of a bill becoming a law.

In Mr. Barack's history class the young lady in the front of the room acknowledged questions on a report she had given.

Play Opposite Roles

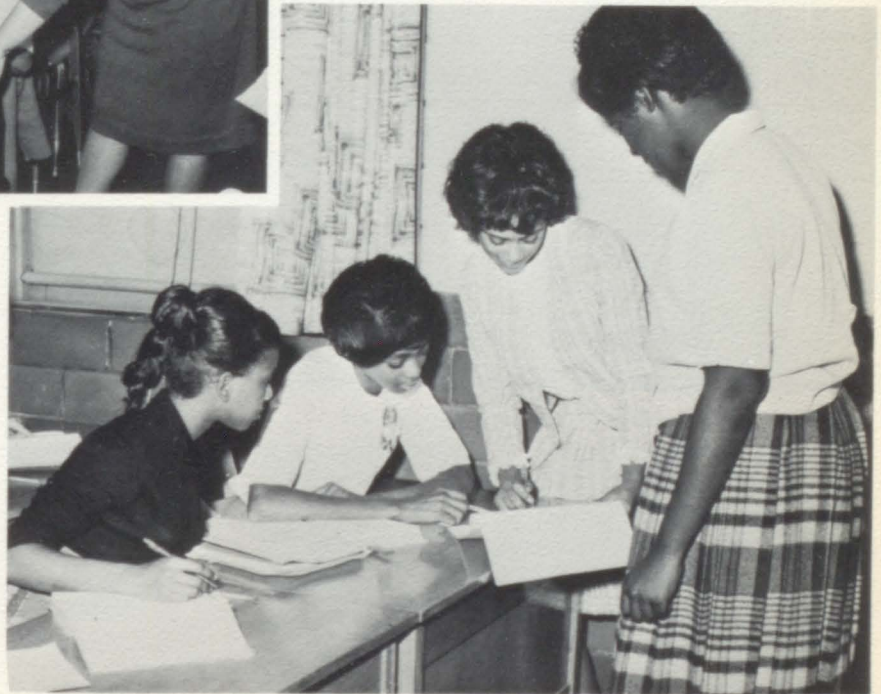

Reading shorthand was as valuable as writing it.

Filing records was one of the many tasks performed by these girls in clerical practice.

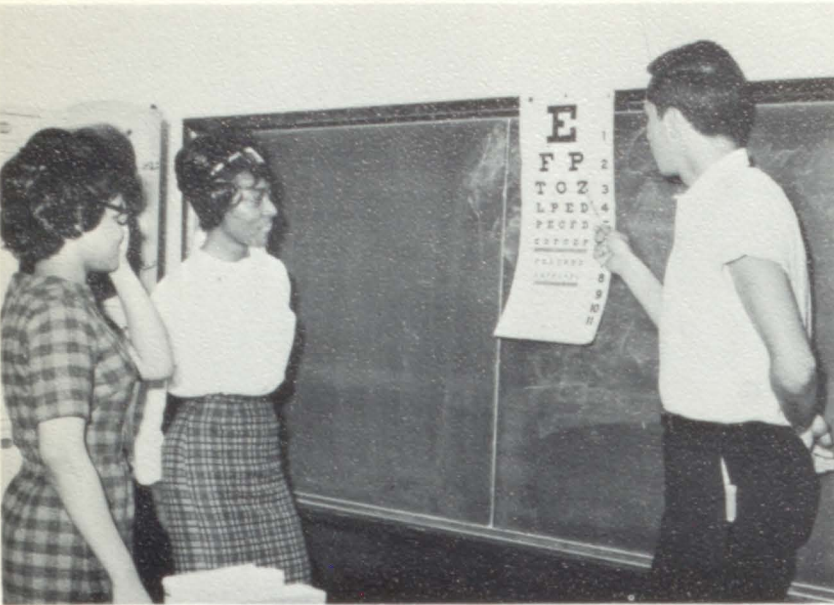

Mrs. Resetar assisted her students in advanced typing skills.

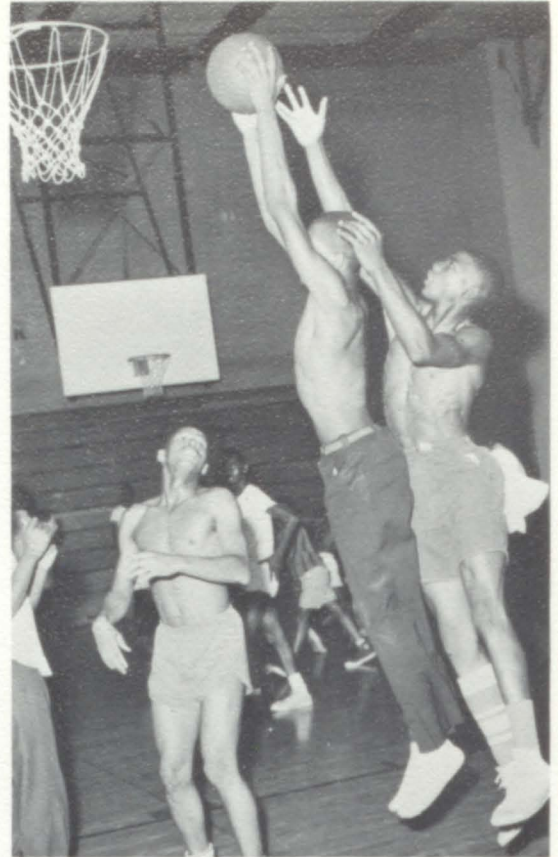

Bookkeeping students compared assignments to be sure their debits and credits balance.

Physical and Vocational

With the help of the vision chart these students improved their eye sight.

One can't tell whether this young man is reaching for the ball or his fellow classmates head.

Physical fitness was stressed greatly for girls.

Under the instruction of Mr. Brown, this student is learning how to operate various audio-visual equipment.

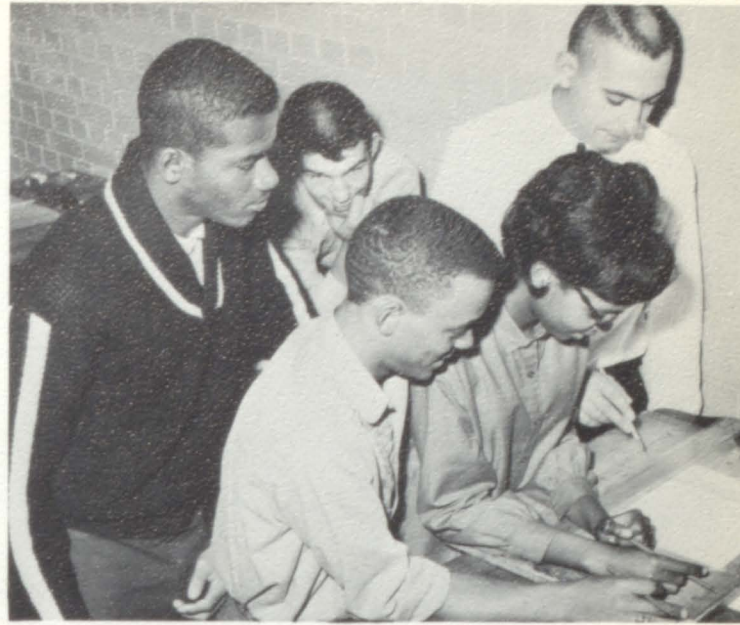

Courses Inspired Skills

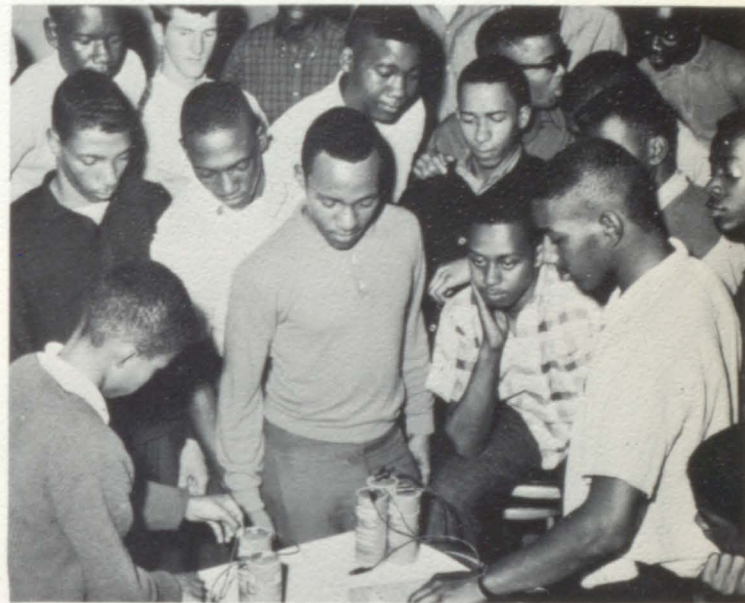

Art students demonstrated their skills to make papier-mache masks.

Metal shop students used their skill in working with metal to make many useful items.

In mechanical drawing, students increased their skills for drawing under the instructions of Mr. Lascoe.

Electric shop students showed interest and concern for their projects.

Woodshop students enjoyed learning to operate the various machines.

Future Homemakers Learned

These young ladies made cooking the most difficult dishes seem easy with modern day conveniences.

Making a wearable garment wasn't such a tedious job for these sewing students who were receiving good instructions.

These home nursing students learned to bathe a baby properly.

And The Band Played On

Mr. Bryant's concert band practiced long hours, working to obtain the perfection they desired.

Band students practiced diligently, preparing for band contest held in February.

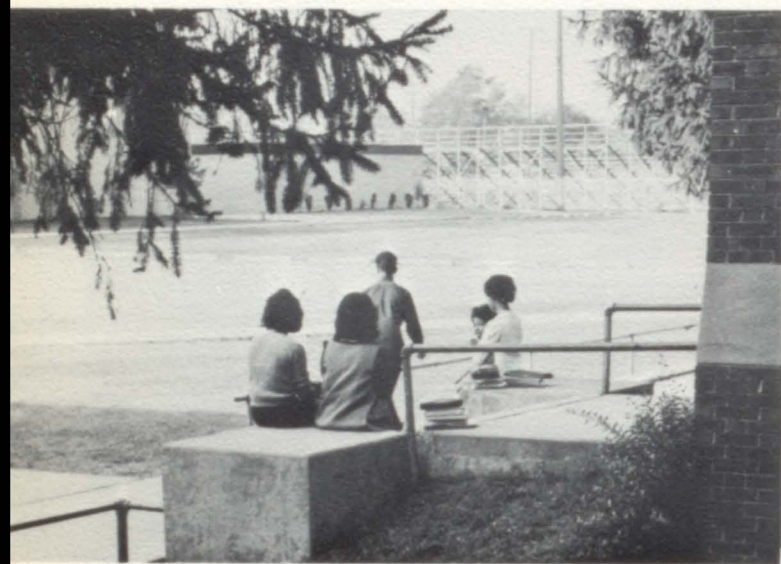

The expressions on the faces of the Girls' Glee Club students, show the different feelings they had for a certain song.

School Life

Students chatted in front of their stately Alma Mater.

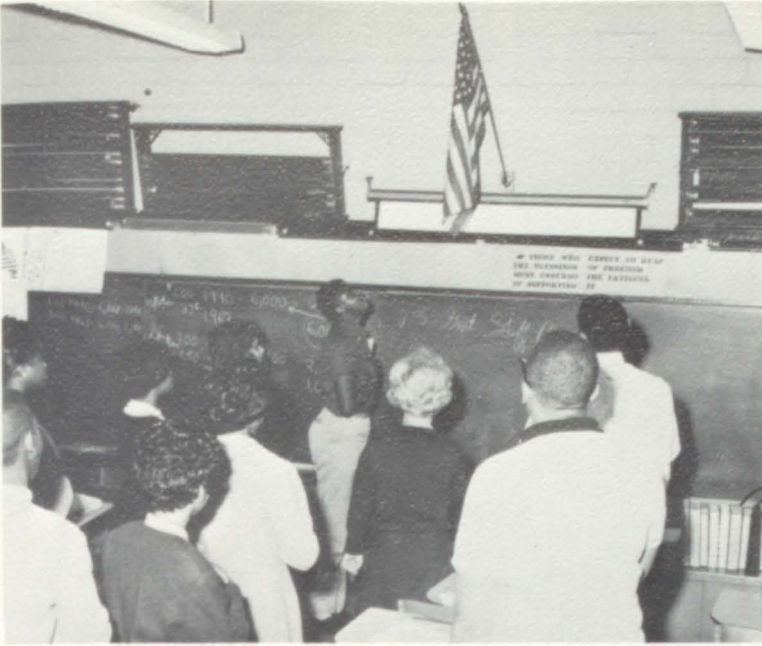

Students relaxed instead of studying during their home-study periods.

A young man displayed senior courtesy to an underclassman.

Played Its Part

Pledging allegiance to the flag was as much a part of school life as homework.

Mr. Carrabine congratulated Miss Lynn Lowery and presented her with a bouquet of roses during the Hi-Y Sweetheart Dance.

Sitting on the rail, students anticipated their classes.

Students scurried in many fashions, to their classes.

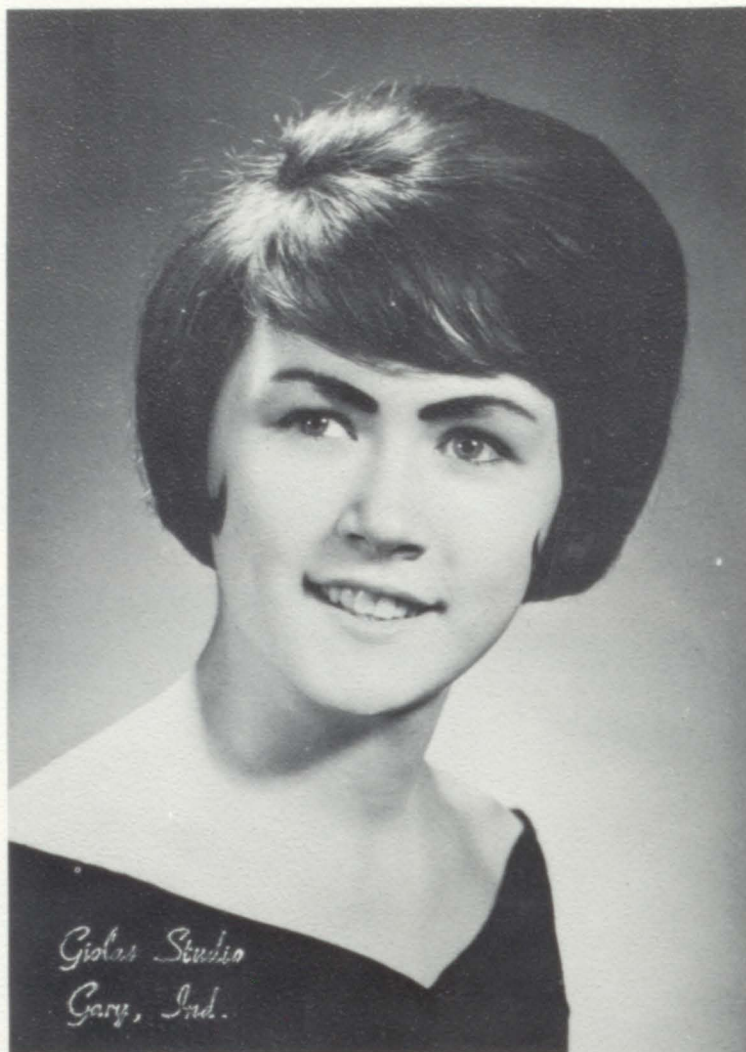

Anna McClatchey was the lucky first runner-up for Homecoming Queen.

Sonny Wilson came in a close second.

Cynthia Berry made a lovely third runner-up.

Connie Padlo was our proud and radiant Homecoming Queen for 1963-64.

Kathleen Leonard was pleased with her 4th place winning.

Carolyn Rucker claimed the 5th place honors.

Last but not least rode Joyce Cherry in the 6th place spot.

After playing a tough first half, Jerry Wick, the team captain, crowns the elated queen.

The "lovely" Queen and her Court smile enchantingly for the photographer.

Royalty Reigns at Homecoming

The team members burst energetically through the cheerleaders' paper football.

The cheerleaders led the huge crowd in spirited yells.

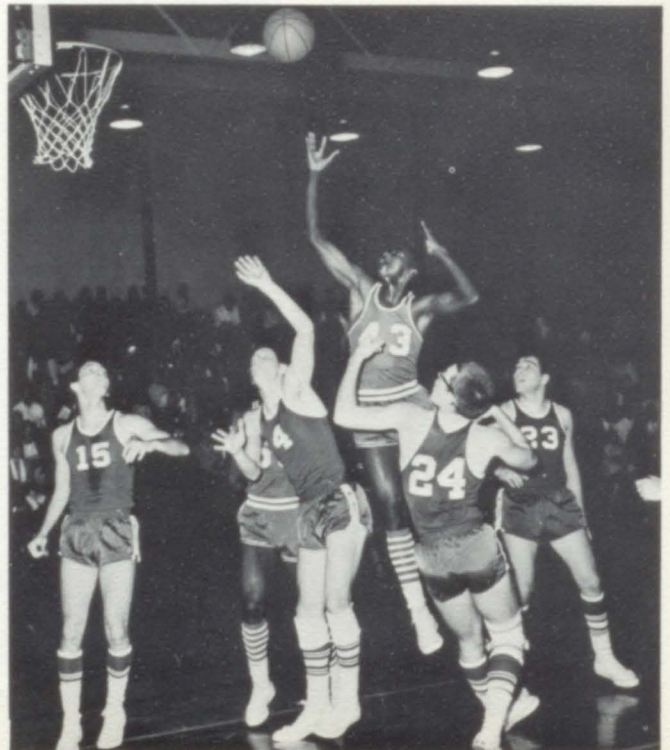

Seniors Progressed

Students displayed school spirit at the homecoming game with Valparaiso.

Fullback Claude Vaxter slipped past three defenders to make a sizeable gain against Lew Wallace.

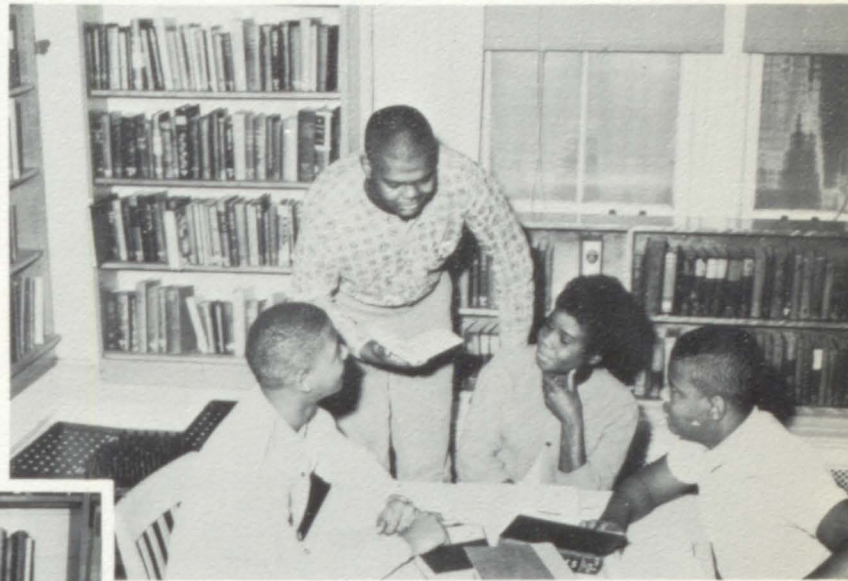

Charles (Crickett) Haney outleaped them all to nab a rebound at the Wirt game.

With Study

College Night provided ample data for college bound students.

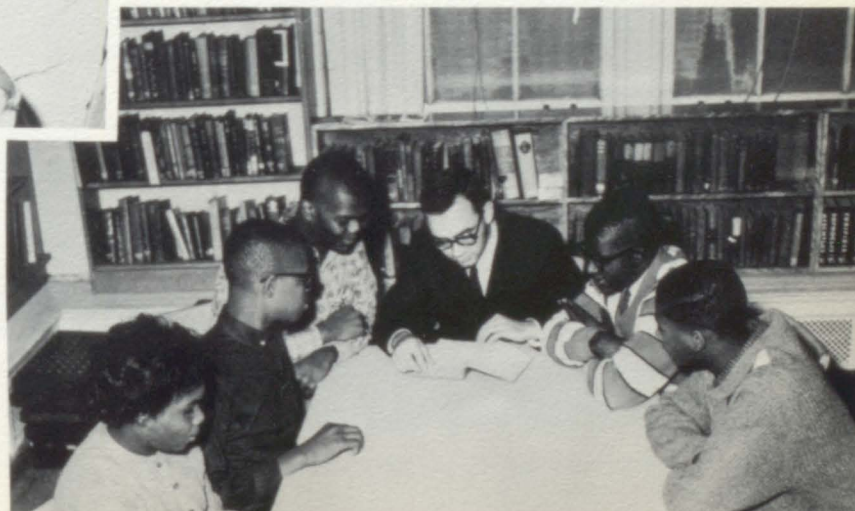

Ronald Patton, Shearwood McClelland, Charmaine Hopkins, and Laurence Anderson reviewed calculus for their next class for Joe Berg.

Johnetta Dockins, Anita Flournoy, Keith Smoak, William Eldridge, and Linda Jo Mitchell were recommended for the World Affairs Forum.

Mr. James Maya conducted the It's Academic Team of Charmaine Hopkins, Paul Nash, Shearwood McClelland, Keith Smoak, and Bruce Landrum.

Many Activities Prevailed

Parents too displayed interest in school activities. Tolleston students had a Mother in the crowd. Mrs. Jones, our registrar, is here seen with her three children, Hancy, Karen, and Berle, who are T. H.S. students.

Coach Vance instructed Jerry Cobbs on the parts of the dashboard.

A member of the Drama Club sold books to parents during the Book Fair.

Seventeen Edit 1964

Laurence Anderson, Editor-in-Chief

Maxine Kapsch, Co-Editor

Eugene Greer, Layout Editor

Gregory Nancy Douglas,
Business Manager

Ramona Gutierrez, Typist

This year the Pioneer Staff was composed of juniors and seniors. They worked together under a capable instructor, Miss J. Minelli, and compiled this year's Pioneer. At the beginning of the year the staff chose the editors for the various positions to be held for the year. To head the group they chose Laurence Anderson for Editor-in-Chief; Maxine Kapsch as his assistant. Working with them were Gregory Nancy Douglas, Business Manager; Carolyn Urser, Assistant Business Manager; Shirley Williams, Copy Editor; Lynn Lowery, Assistant Copy Editor; Eugene Greer, Layout Editor; Anita Flournoy, Assistant Layout Editor; Walter Lowe, Index Editor; Doris Sheridan, Assistant Index Editor; Horace Rogers, and Fred Mitchell, Sports Editors. There was much time spent and effort put forth by these students in getting this year's book completed by the deadline, which seems to come much too soon for the work that has to be done.

Along with white space, pictures and copy are the basic elements in the design of the yearbook. Although it is a tedious job to arrange the pictures, copy writing is most defiant. In writing copy, there are headings, captions, and body copy; each of which presents a difficult task. Headings, however, seem to pose the greatest challenge, for not only must they be eye-catching they must also be interesting and informative. By means of body copy, readers become acquainted with the ideals, purposes, and activities of various extracurricular clubs and organizations existing in the school. Captions under pictures explain the action of the picture and make various identifications. They must also be well written. After the Pioneer was completed, the staff spent the rest of the semester studying elements of foundation and journalistic principles and style.

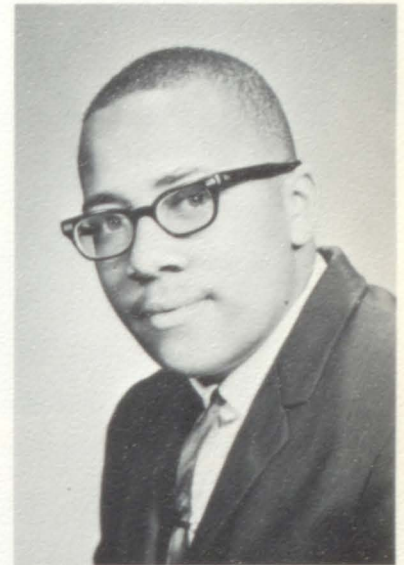

An especially enjoyable night for the staff was the annual Publications Banquet held at Hotel Gary, at which various awards were made for outstanding achievements, and a bowling party was held during the year at a local bowling alley.

The last social event of the year was also given by the 1964 Journalists. This event was the annual Distribution Dance where the staff proudly distributed the new 1964 Pioneer.

While Laurence Anderson and Doris Sheridan gave instructions, Lou Audrey Beasley, Dyann Debowles, and Ramona Gutierrez reviewed the yearbook's production.

Dyann DeBowles and Lou Audrey Beasley comprised our Advertising Department.

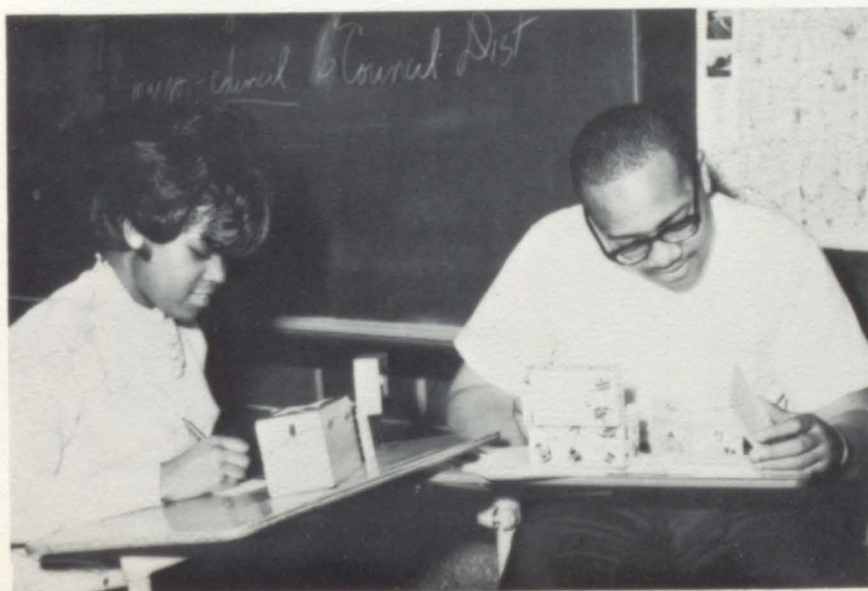

Staff members were overwhelmed by the arrival of new pictures.

The production of the yearbook kept the staff busy all year.

Anita Flournoy, Doris Sheridan, Sheila Brooks, and Lynn Lowery were very capable assistants to the editors.

Walter Lowe and Carolyn Ursery comprised our Index Department.

Without the assistance of able typists, the Pioneer would not have been completed. Shown here are Evelyn Walker and Ramona Gutierrez, head typist.

Honor Students Inducted

The Honor Society is a select organization. It consisted of three members who met the very strict National Honor Society qualifications. Some of these qualifications included strong abilities in leadership, service, citizenship, character, and, of course, scholarship. New members were inducted in early May, and they ushered at the Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises. These members worked hard to make academic achievement the goal of each student.

Science Club Experimented

Members of the Science Club work on one of several experiments.

Basketball Team

Hi-Y officers seemed satisfied that their dance was a success.

Tolleston's Hi-Y Club was led by the following competent officers for the 1963-64 school year: Wesley Sykes, president; Nelson Roberts, vice president; Samuel Smith, secretary; Tommie Sims, treasurer; and George Comer, business manager. These officers along with other members and Mr. Meharry Lewis, advisor, worked diligently to make every activity of the year successful.

Their first activity was the Hi-Y Sweetheart Dance, which started the year off as a successful one for the Hi-Y.

Retained Tournament Trophy

HI-Y MEMBERS (IN SWEATERS) ROW ONE: Charles Harris, Tommy E. Sims, Nelson Roberts, Wesley Sykes, Samuel Smith, Bernard Hanyard, Dwight Westbrooks. Candidates for Hi-Y Sweetheart wait anxiously for the announcing of the Hi-Y queen.

Mr. Carrabine congratulates the winner and first Hi-Y Sweetheart, Lynn Lowery, as others look on.

Sweetheart of Club

The Hi-Y members chose three girls to compete for Hi-Y Sweetheart. They were Gloria Atkins, Yvonne Harris, and Lynn Lowery. After the final count was made, Lynn Lowery was announced sweetheart and was presented with a bouquet of red roses; later she received a Hi-Y sweater, cap with the insignia of the club, and a club pin. Their next activity, which was a monthly endeavor, was the visitation of churches in the community. Because the concern for the religious development of each member was sincere, they practiced religious ideals and attempted to influence others through good example. In an attempt to develop good sportsmanship, physical health, and the general ability and disposition to act on thinking, the basketball team was started; and the boys placed first in the Holiday Tournament on January 3, 1964, held at the Y. M. C. A.

To highlight the club's activities and the closing school year, the Hi-Y presented their annual talent panorama in the boys' gym on May 14-15, 1964.

Lynn Lowery was elected the first Hi-Y Sweetheart.

Newly elected Hi-Y Sweetheart and Hi-Y sponsor, Mr. Lewis, pose for picture at Hi-Y Dance.

ROW FOUR: Edie Adams, Cathy Leonard, Lynn Lowery, Francesca Powell, Marie Littles, Clara Spears, Sandra McGregory, Doris Sheridan, Patricia Sanders, Carolyn Rucker.

Members of the Y-Teens got together to discuss plans for the Sweetheart Dance.

The Tolleston Y-Teens, associated with the Gary Y. W. C. A., elected officers who helped lead the club through another successful year. The girls who held offices were Lois Dixon, President; Lynn Lowery, Vice-President; Doris Green, Secretary; Earline Marshall, Treasurer; and Kathy Naylor, Council Representative.

The Y-Teens is designed to give girls a better understanding of the duties and responsibilities of building a fellowship devoted to Christian services, both personal and social. Mrs. Elliot, sponsor of the club, encouraged the girls to realize their ideals and seek to understand mankind.

The club's first activity of the year was a slumber party which was held at the Y. W. C. A. Other activities included a masquerade party, an induction ceremony for the new members, a fashion show held in December, a Christmas party where the girls charged an admission of gifts for various convalescence homes, and a Valentine Dance in the girls' gym. As a money-making project, the girls sold black pepper.

In spite of the busy school schedule, the girls found that it was a satisfying experience in fellowship, to dedicate some of their time to the benefit of others.

School Activities

The 1963-64 school year has been an eventful nine months for the Tolleston High School Senior Student Council. Under the esteem guidance of Miss Eugenia Sacopulos, the senior student council has sponsored or participated in eleven major school projects.

The organization's first major project was to revise the Tolleston constitution. New coat-checking facilities were introduced at all major social affairs for the first time. During the Christmas season the student council sponsored the "I Can Do" drive by having sock-hops at which the admission was a can of food. Due to the successful sock-hops, twelve baskets of food were distributed to needy Tolleston families.

Student Council projects for this year also included a pep session during basketball season, participating in the annual polio drive, presenting an original skit used to illustrate the Tolleston Code of Ethics, setting up a school calendar, and sponsoring two meetings for members to gain instruction in club rules and parliamentary procedure at which the film "Mr. Chairman" was shown. The year's activities concluded with three honorary members representing Tolleston at the Intercity Student Council which met at our school in April, and three elected members will attend summer sessions for the student council summer workshop at Indiana University.

G.A.A. Governing Board Convenes

Bonita Jackson, President

Mrs. Naomi Brown, Sponsor

Gloria Hudson, Secretary-Treasurer

G. A. A. Advisory Council strike a relaxing pose at the end of an exhausting meeting.

"I promise to uphold the ideas of the Girls' Athletic Association

By promoting interest in the out-of-doors

By living so that I may be healthy and strong

By making honesty and good sportsmanship

A constant factor in my conduct" read the inspiring motto of the Tolleston Girls' Association of Athletics. This motto along with the members of the G. A. A. tried to make and maintain sports as a highway to physical stability.

The 1963-64 G. A. A. school year concluded a three year period with Mrs. Naomi Brown's sponsorship. With the guidance of Mrs. Brown, officers of the G. A. A. and its members promoted a delightful social calendar. The officers consist of Bonita Jackson, serving as this year's President and Gloria Hudson as Secretary-Treasurer. Every year along with the election of officers, there is a subordinate election of sportheads. This year Francine Martin, Jackie Ross, Ruby Eddie, Cynthia Berry, Diane Parker, Peggy Means, and Elaine Jefferson retain the positions of sportheads for speedball, bowling, volleyball, basketball, softball, recreational sports, and chairmen of annual candy sales. They also promise to provide this year's athletic dedication with tournaments and periods of learning and developing skills of each seasonal sport.

During the Christmas season, the G. A. A. held an organizational party for its members. Each member was asked to pay the price of a can of food. The food was placed in a basket and given to a needy Tolleston family.

In January, G. A. A. members began their annual bowling tournament at Sportsman's Recreational Center. Every Thursday at 3:30 p.m. self-organized bowling teams met with Mrs. Brown and bowling sporthead Jacqueline Ross. At the conclusion of the bowling tournament, the basketball tournament started in full swing.

Last year's basketball tournament winners included: Captain, Geraldine Underwood, Carolyn Ursery, Patricia Weakley, Beyerly Moss, Elaine Jefferson, Mary Christian, and Barbara Pruitt. "The Torrents," as they were called, promise to increase competition for G. A. A. basketball trophies this year.

In May, G. A. A. members held their annual banquet and formal dance at the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Gary. At the banquet the girls had dinner and a program was presented in which awards and trophies were presented to outstanding members. At this time all girls who had earned a total of 1500 points by participating in activities earned a letter "T." All team members winning tournaments were awarded trophies. Trophies were also awarded to the outstanding G. A. A. Council member, and the "ideal" G. A. A. member.

Spanish Club Held Fiestas

These four Spanish students enjoyed a dance at a fiesta of the year.

Carmen Augusta, Vice-president; Marcia Carmen, secretary-treasurer; Jacqueline Pace, parliamentarian; Linda Wilson, president.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Yvonne Davis, the Spanish Club, consisting of twenty-four freshman and sophomore Spanish students, entered the second year of the club's existence.

Linda Wilson, Spanish Club president, and Carmen Agosto, vice president, assumed the responsibility of organizing special activities for the club members. Included in these activities were a Christmas Party, a trip to Riverview, and a special program on Spanish dances. At the Christmas Party, Spanish food was served and Mrs. Davis was presented a special gift from the members in appreciation of her excellent supervision.

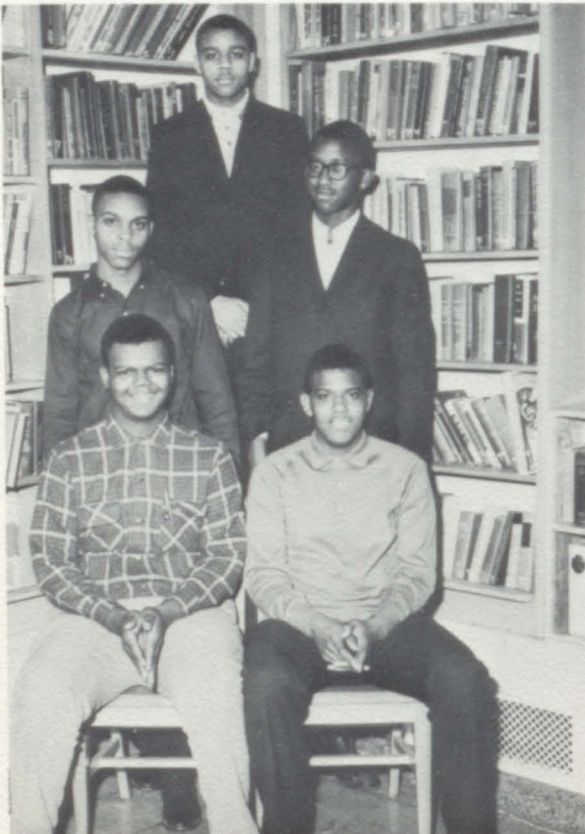

Although the Spanish Club is relatively young, the interest that it stirred promoted increased membership during the past school year.

ROW THREE: Hazal Harper, Antoinette Raspberry, Mary McNeal, Monica Noel, Ronald Mardus, Stanley Padlo, Jr. ROW FOUR: Alfred Johnson, Gregory Mack, Rudolph Gray, James Nasolski.

Gloria Atkins passes out membership cards to new members.

Mrs. Ann Thompson, who for the past three years has carried on the affairs of the Latin Club, is to be commended for her success of making the club a worthwhile organization.

The Latin Club has achieved its share of success. It began this year's activities with a trip to Chicago to view "Cleopatra." This venture was well enjoyed by everyone. Some of the club's other big events were the induction of new members and the Roman Banquet, which were held on the same night. The event everyone looked forward to was the annual Latin Conference in which all schools that teach Latin participate.

As seen in the past, Latin is becoming increasingly popular as a language and a club.

Entering the gym for the ceremony, inductees and sponsors take their places.

Active members of the Latin Club sell taffy-apples to increase their income.

French Club Inducted Members

MEMBERS OF THE FRENCH CLUB ROW ONE: La Born Hayes, Donna Foster, Johnetta Dockins, Sheila Jenkins, Shirley Washington, Teddy Moor, Andrea Dungy, Cynthia Berry, Janice Alsobrooks, Melva Wilson. The school spirit of any school is an essential factor for a successful sports team. Tolleston not only has great school spirit but a wonderful sports team. This is largely due to the Pep Club and Cheerleaders, who managed to attend all games and lead their team to victory after victory.

The Pep Club is led by Ronald Wilson, president; Sonny Wilson, vice-president; Ella Taylor, secretary; and Brenda Haney, treasurer. Mrs. Anne Rodgers is the sponsor of both the Pep Club and Cheerleaders.

The Tolleston High School Band started its season with marching and playing our team to victory. The band under the direction of Mr. Edmond Bielski and Mr. Melville Bryant, successfully put on a half time show for our homecoming game, making the difficult figures which related to the music being played. After the football season was over the band then elected its officers and prepared for the year's activities. The officers are, president, Willie Flournoy; secretary-treasurer, Doris Sheridan; business manager, Alfred Johnson. The band participated in the Northern Indiana District Contest. The winners of that contest went to the regional finals in Indianapolis at Butler University.

With the coming of Spring the band prepared for their annual band concert. This is the most important event of the year and the students and directors work hard each year to make it very successful. This year was no exception.

Next on the agenda for the band was the Memorial Day parade. The band marched down Broadway where they were judged for their performance by the judges. The seniors of Tolleston marched to their seats commencement night by the music of the band. On this occasion the seniors of the band are able to play their last number with the band. This completes the activities for another year.

The band performs at the annual spring contest.

The Tolleston R. O. T. C. began their year by selecting their Honorary Cadets. Through secret ballots, each cadet selected Lynn Lowery and Connie Padlo to the positions Lt. Colonel and Captain respectively. A dance was held in their honor and they were later awarded medals of honor at the Awards and Decorations Ceremony, May first.

Always held in the highest respect for their outstanding performance was the Drill team which competed in drill team competition and made the corps and the school very proud. The Rifle team also held special acclaim when they fired against the fifth Army and were victorious with a score of 2306.

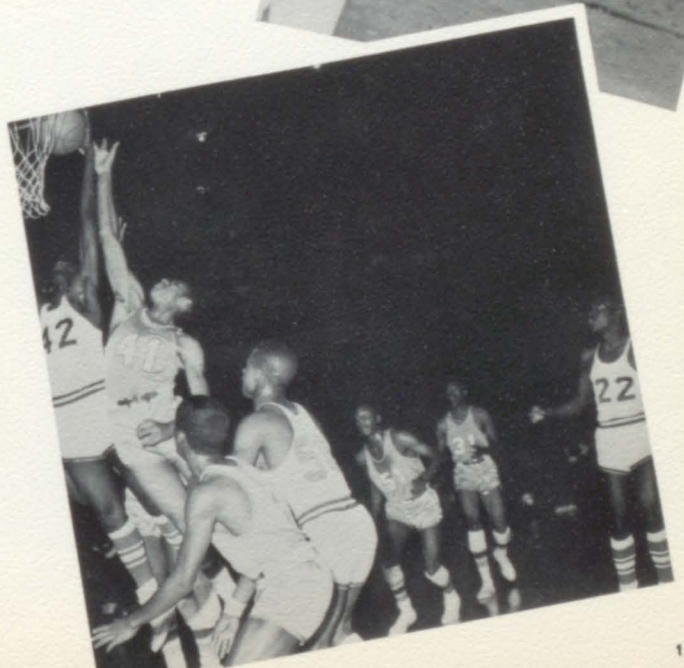

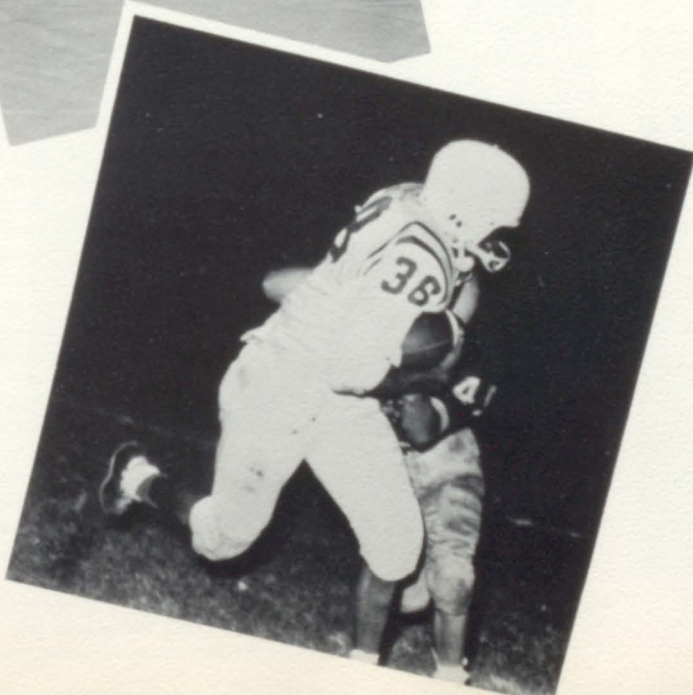

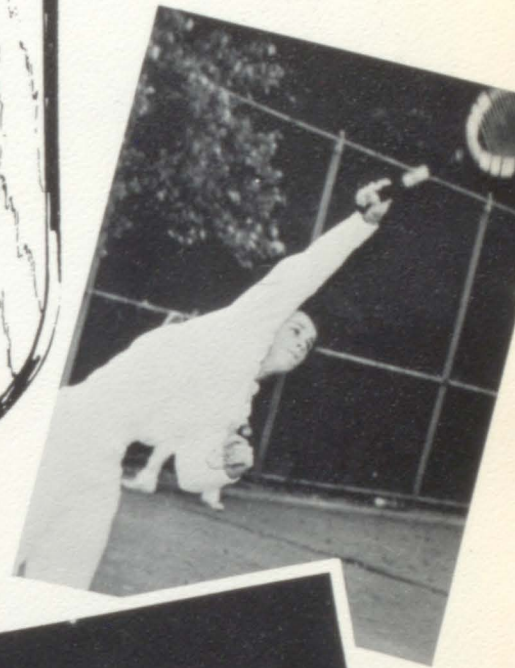

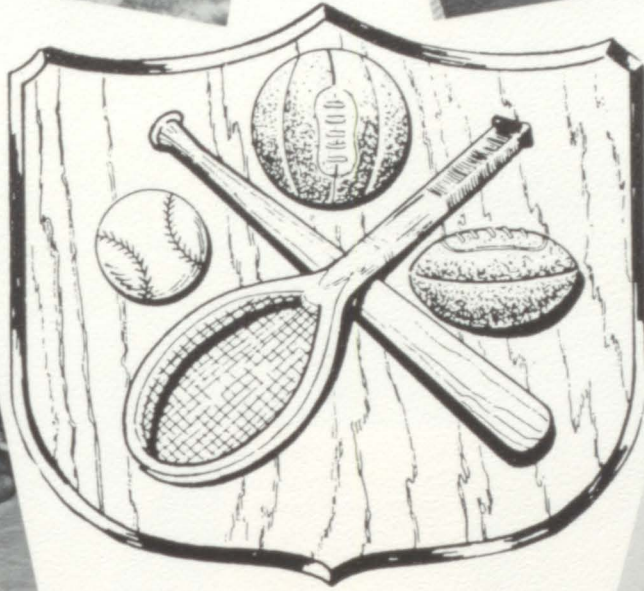

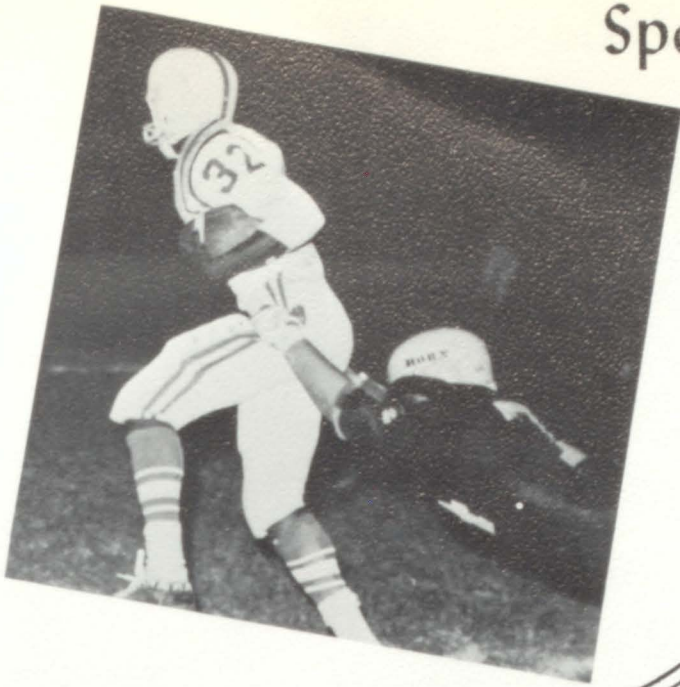

The high ranking cadets that led the 1963-64 corps were Lt. Colonel Joseph Velez, Lt. Colonel Wesley Sykes, Lt. Colonel Bruce Landrum, and Lt. Colonel Richard McMillian. With the aid of instructor, Sgt. Donald Cade, they taught students the purpose of R. O. T. C.----to prepare students at high school level for military service.

Winning special honors for themselves and the corps were S/Sgt. Paul Davis who won first place in city rifle competition; S/Sgt. William Stellhorn who also won first place in city rifle team competition; Lt. Col. Bruce Landrum who was promoted to the regimental staff; Lt. Col. Richard McMillian who was promoted to the position of Battalion Commander.

The cadets' biggest event of the year was the Military Ball held at Marquette Park April 1, 1964.

Lt. Colonel Wesley Sykes and Lt. Colonel Joseph Velez congratulated Honorary Cadets, Lynn Lowery and Connie Padlo at the Military Ball.

FOURTH ROW: Ester Scott, Robert Shotwell, Thomas Lewis, Fred Mitchell, Lonnie Garrett, Ronald Harris, Glenn Ballard, Lazarrus Holden, Walter Thomas, and Milton Conley.

The Tolleston grid story of 1963 featured only a tie in eight contests. Our team's futile bid to salvage a victory was muffled by a score of injuries, costly mistakes, and a well known disease called "fumble-itis."

Materially Tolleston fashioned a notorious ground attack, which was highlighted by our fullback Claude "All Purpose" Vaxter. He was complemented by a set of speedy halfbacks including Tommy Nichols, Johnny La Broi, David Mitchell and Ronald Wilson. Our passing game which suffered from key injuries to our receivers showed much promise. The three alternating quarterbacks Billy Taylor, Isaac Hood, and Gordon Fleming also combined their passing and signal-calling talents to keep the defense always aware of their threat.

There was glaring evidence of the team's ability as they bowed to their first three opponents by a total of a mere five points. These close games were contributed by a well fortified defensive platoon. Heading the list of these unsung heroes were Ivory Hood, Jerry Wick, Artis Carroll, and John Zedalis. This rugged defensive unit was responsible for many of the close games that could have gone either way.

Probably more important than the team's final record, however, was the fact that the 1963 squad was fast, aggressive, and potentially the best team Tolleston has ever seen.

The Blue Raider's tennis team, defending city champs the last two years, was jolted with seven losses in eleven decisions last year. Tolleston lost its three top players of the championship team by graduation and with them the hope for another successful season. Spearheading the Raider tennis team were seniors, Tony Mostello and David Skolak. Returning lettermen are Leonard Haile, John Lee, Willie Richardson, Tom Revis, and Michael Kelly. Within these returning lettermen is the hope of another city championship.

Track and X-Country

A competitive spirit in practice stimulated better performances in the meets. Here are some team members practicing on the high hurdles.

A relatively young and inexperienced team of thinclads set out to maintain the tradition that Tolleston High School had established for itself through the performances of former Raider track standouts.

Pacesetters for the '64 squad included: seniors—Ronald Golston, Raymond Fleming, Charles Haney, and Albert Fisher; juniors—Ivory Hood, Eli Meyers, and Tommy Nichols. There were also several promising sophomore prospects including Jerome Tucker, Lance Pratt, Lazarus Holden and Charles Williams.

Made Patience Pay Off

Group exercises were a prerequisite to both track and cross country practice sessions. The three track men included in this picture are: LEFT TO RIGHT: Eli Myers, Ivory Hood, and Ronald Gholston.

Baseball Ends Sport Season

The distribution of equipment initiated the 1964 baseball season.

Coach Joe Vance and his diamond aggregation assumed a positive attitude toward the 1964 baseball season, leaving behind the thoughts of their dismal past. The return of six veteran players to the '64 roster made it easy for Coach Vance to assume this attitude and encouraged the ball players to play more enthusiastically. These returning lettermen were: Ronald Patton, Robert Protho, Anthony Protho, Larry Anderson, Tom Lewis, and William Carter.

While acquiring a correct mental attitude, the players also kept in top physical condition. This physical conditioning consisted of early spring practices and organized exercise sessions in the gymnasium.

Coach Vance gives batting tips to Larry Anderson, as Tom Lewis and Ronald Patton look on.

Acknowledgements

Although the entire Pioneer Staff worked diligently during the year to make the yearbook a success, special thanks should be extended to our advisor, Miss Joanne Minelli, and our photographer, Mr. John Giolas, both of whom did much to aid the student journalists.

We would also like to thank the administration, the faculty, and the entire student body for their support and co-operation. Without their help the yearbook would not have been a success.

STOP

PRESS!!!

Blue Raiders Capture

Administrators, faculty, team, and cheerleaders signify by four fingers that there were only four more games before they would be eligible for state champion title.

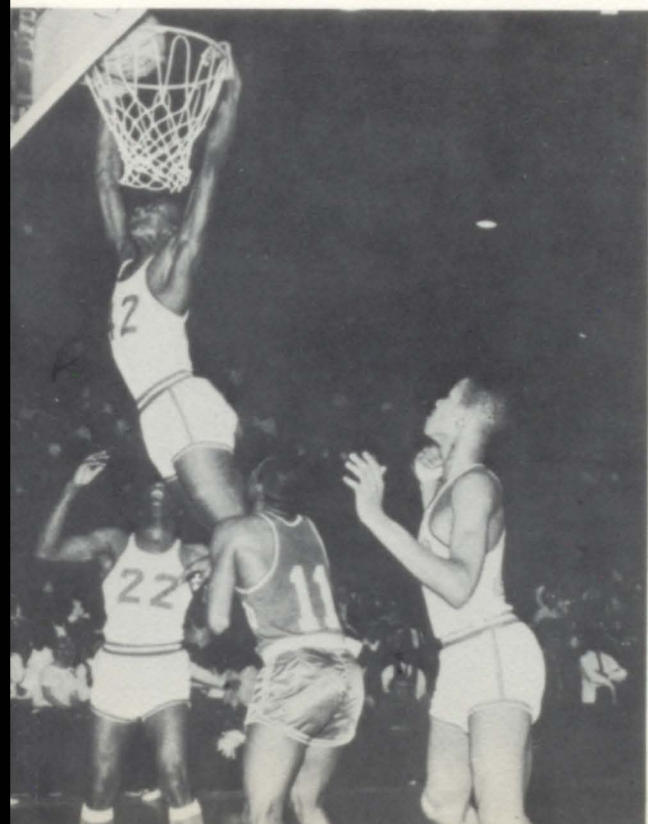

Bob Prothro consulted Coach Vance before going back into the game.

John Williams quickly moved in for a neat lay up.

First Regional Victory

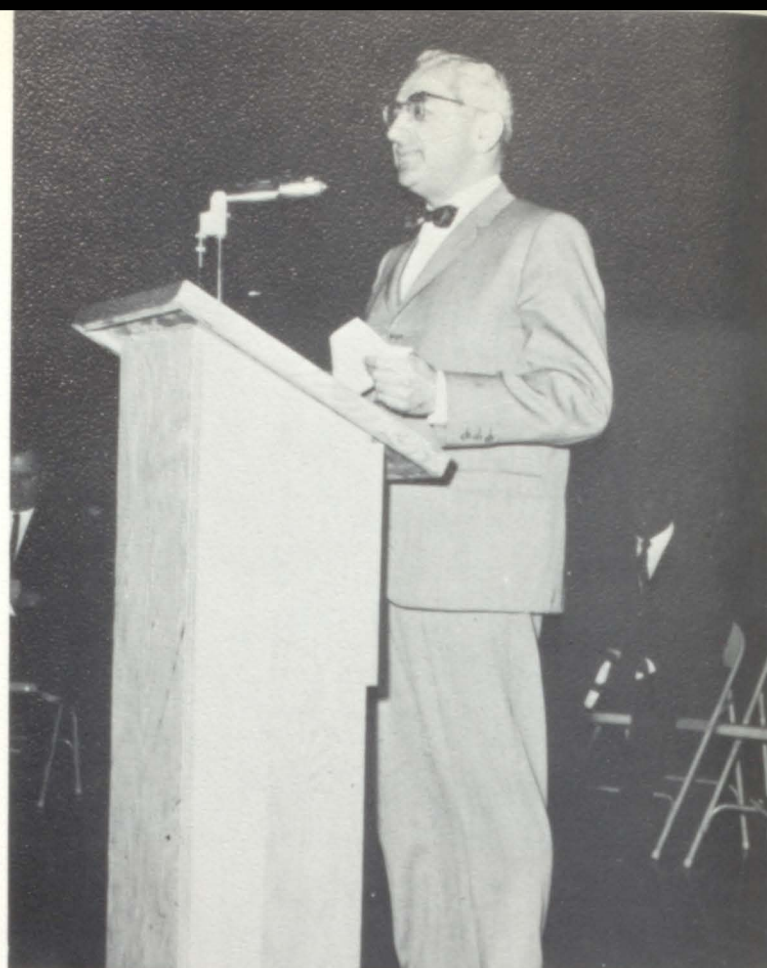

Chuck Haney dunked the ball for an assured two points.

Mr. Richard M. Carrabine, principal, and Chuck Haney, captain of the basketball team, received sectional championship trophy.

Honorable Mayor A. Martin Katz extended his good wishes for championship performances by Gary schools.

Assemblies Spark Enthusiasm

Players, officials, and administrators were present at sectional championship victory assembly.

Lafayette: Last Stop

In a scramble like this, the "Blue Raiders" usually came out on the better end.

Tommy Nichols put the ball "up and in" for a quick addition to the score.

The ability to control the ball while it was in the air proved to be very effective.

Claude Vaxter and Charles Haney went up in the air for a smooth rebound.

Its Academic team consisted of Charmaine Hopkins, Sherwood McCelland, and Bruce Landrum, seated. Standing are alternates, John Lee, Keith Smook, and Paul Nash.

Academic Success Proved
